VTQs:

VTQs (Vocational Technical Qualifications) are practical qualifications for over 16s. They're designed to help you get the skills you need to start your career or go on to higher levels of education.

VTQs focus on a specific job or a broad employment area, such as childcare, engineering or IT.

They're usually taken at a school or college. They might be for you if you have a strong interest in working in a particular industry.
